Dear Charles,

The recent International Sculpture Center conference in New Orleans, LA, was my first ISC conference and my first visit to NOLA. The conference theme, Sculpture, Culture, and Community, had a profound impact on me. We commonly hear that "art makes us look at the world differently", but this went further: Art is changing communities and the world. I met and learned from amazing artists. I departed with a new fondness for NOLA and with new resolves for my life as an artist. I urge each of you to attend a future International Sculpture Conference; the next is in Arizona, and a subsequent may be in this area.

I am thrilled about the ISC Chapters' show at Grounds for Sculpture in New Jersey (October 24, 2015 through April 23, 2016). San Francisco Chronicle Arts Critic Kenneth Baker will be the juror for our Pacific Rim Sculptors submissions. This will be an important show.

Note we will have elections for officers for 2015 in the near future. Please consider running for office; it is a bit of work, but manageable, and you will have the help of other officers and members; you will learn a lot; and you will make contacts that will help you throughout your arts career.

Please try to tour studio spaces during the Fall Open Studios; if you are new to exhibiting your works it is a great way to get experience. We don't have space to list participants, but you can check out www.artspan.org for listings in San Francisco.

I hope you enjoy this issue of your newsletter.

Patricia Bengston Jones is offering approximately 12’ x 24’ of studio space (below) in West Berkeley. There are several other artist studio spaces nearby. The space has a handicap accessible ramp; there is an unloading area that has an engine hoist. The space also includes outdoor area (welding is not permitted), and is easily accessed from 880 near Aquatic Park. The space could be subdivided into three smaller spaces. And it is an easy walk to Brennan’s for lunch! For more information, call Patricia at 510-849-3534.
Lynne Todaro says that her school has sent its brand new Pacific Kiln Company's deluxe ceramic shell mixer (left) to the state surplus website to be auctioned off. The mixer, which has never been used, has stainless steel tanks and holds 90 gallons of materials. Go to www.publicsurplus.com then on the right side select California as the region, then West Valley Mission CCD as the agency.
